Respected sir

Covid crisis has brought out the difficulties and discrepancies in administering and managing a public Health emergency. Inherent and incipient structural and administrative fractures have been exposed. Therefore it is also the suitable time to rectify the man made deficiencies which are eminently correctable.

IMA has attempted to capture some of these difficulties and deficiencies. The list is neither comprehensive nor exhaustive but is only a fair reflection of what is evident. We have compiled such issues with commendations in the best interest of the Health of our people.

Thanking you,

Yours sincerely
